Commonwealth Ombudsman Office of the Commonwealth Ombudsman

The Commonwealth Attorney-General, Senator the Hon Michaelia Cash, is seeking expressions of interest from suitably qualified persons for appointment as the Commonwealth Ombudsman. The position is established under the Ombudsman Act 1976.

The Commonwealth Ombudsman safeguards the community in its dealings with government agencies and ensures that the administrative actions of Australian Government departments and agencies are fair and accountable. As an independent statutory office holder, the Ombudsman can consider complaints or initiate investigations relating to most federal government organisations. The Ombudsman is also the ACT Ombudsman, the Private Health Insurance Ombudsman, Postal Industry Ombudsman as well as the Overseas Student, VET Student Loans and Defence Force Ombudsman. The Ombudsman inspects, and reports to Parliament about, aspects of law enforcement agencies' use of covert and intrusive powers, inspects immigration detention facilities and oversees the operation of the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2013. Information about the Office of the Commonwealth Ombudsman is available at www.ombudsman.gov.au.

As Commonwealth Ombudsman, you will be responsible for the strategic leadership and day-to-day management of the Office and with the development of policies, systems and processes for conducting effective and timely complaint investigations and compliance audits. You will build strong and enduring working relationships with key stakeholders, including the senior staff of government departments and agencies and private sector organisations and represent the Office in a wide range of public forums.

You will need to be an outstanding leader and manager with well-honed conceptual and analytical skills and an impressive record of achievement. You will have proven ability to coordinate and lead complex investigations and to engage critical senior stakeholders from diverse sectors within the Australian community. This will be complemented by excellent representational skills, sound judgement and a personal style that engenders trust and respect. Experience in administrative law and/or senior government administration would be an advantage for this role.

The Commonwealth Ombudsman is appointed by the Governor-General for a term of up to 7 years. This statutory appointment will be based in Canberra.

Information about the position, including eligibility and selection criteria, and details on how to apply, is available on the Attorney-General's Department website Careers page - <https://www.ag.gov.au/about-us/careers/statutory-appointments>. Information about the OCO

The OCO is a non-corporate Commonwealth entity established under the Ombudsman Act 1976 (the Ombudsman Act) that sits within the Attorney-General's Portfolio. The OCO is an independent and impartial oversight agency that is responsible for providing assurance that Australian Government entities and prescribed private sector organisations act with integrity and treat people fairly.

The Ombudsman is the Chief Executive of the Office and is assisted by a Deputy Ombudsman. The Ombudsman and Deputy Ombudsman are appointed by the Governor-General. A staff of over 200 is employed under the Public Service Act 1999.

The national office is in Canberra and there are state offices in Adelaide, Perth, Brisbane, Melbourne and Sydney. For further information about the Office of the Commonwealth Ombudsman go to: www.ombudsman.gov.au.

Role of the Ombudsman

The Commonwealth Ombudsman is an independent statutory officer appointed under the Ombudsman Act. The Ombudsman safeguards the community in its dealings with government agencies and ensures that the administrative actions of Australian Government departments and agencies are fair and accountable. The Ombudsman has six major functions:

- complaint investigations
- own motion investigations

- compliance audits
- immigration detention oversight
- Commonwealth Public Interest Disclosure scheme oversight
- Private health insurance consumer information.

The Ombudsman Act also confers the following specialist roles on the Ombudsman:

- Defence Force Ombudsman—handling complaints by serving and former members of the Australian Defence Force relating to their service and in relation to allegations of abuse
- Postal Industry Ombudsman—handling complaints about Australia Post and private postal operators registered with the Postal Industry Ombudsman scheme
- Overseas Students Ombudsman – handling complaints from overseas students about private education providers in Australia
- Private Health Insurance Ombudsman – protecting the interests of private health insurance consumers
- VET Student Loans Ombudsman – handling complaints from past or current students about their VET FEE-HELP or VET Student Loan debts.

The Ombudsman is also responsible for overseeing immigration detention and the inspection and monitoring of the use of certain covert and intrusive powers by law enforcement agencies. The Ombudsman is the National Preventive Mechanism Coordinator for the implementation of OPCAT in Australia.

In undertaking these roles, the Ombudsman is impartial and independent. The Ombudsman is not an advocate for complainants or for agencies. The guiding principle in an Ombudsman investigation is to examine whether the administrative action under investigation is unlawful, unreasonable, unjust, oppressive, improperly discriminatory, factually deficient or otherwise wrong. At the conclusion of an investigation, the Ombudsman can recommend that corrective action be taken by an agency. This may occur either specifically in an individual case or more generally by a change to relevant legislation, administrative policies or procedures.

A key objective of the Ombudsman is to foster good public administration within Australian Government agencies, ensuring that the principles and practices of public administration are sensitive, responsive and adaptive to the interests of members of the public. The Ombudsman can consider complaints about almost all Australian Government departments and agencies, and most contractors delivering services to the community for, or on behalf of, the Australian Government.

The Commonwealth Ombudsman is also the ACT Ombudsman in accordance with section 28 of the ACT Self-Government (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 (Cth). The role of the ACT Ombudsman is performed under the Ombudsman Act 1989 (ACT), and is funded under a services agreement between the Commonwealth Ombudsman and the ACT Government.

The Ombudsman is responsible for the strategic leadership and day-to-day management of the OCO and with the development of policies, systems and processes for conducting effective and timely complaint investigations and compliance audits. The Ombudsman is required to build strong and enduring working relationships with key stakeholders, including the senior staff of government departments and agencies and private sector organisations, and represent the OCO in a wide range of public forums.
