Dear Mr Green

I refer to your request under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (the FOI Act) which we received on 25 August 2015.

The FOI Act permits an agency to transfer all or part of a request to another agency if the request relates to documents that the other agency has (and the agency that received the request does not), or documents that relate more closely to the other agency. The Ombudsman's office commonly transfers requests and part-requests that cover documents provided to the office by another agency and which reflect the work of that agency rather than that of the Ombudsman's office.

In relation to your FOI request, I have decided under s 16 of the FOI Act to transfer your request to Australia Post. Australia Post is now responsible for processing your FOI request. If you wish to contact Australia Post about your FOI request, you may do so by email to foi@auspost.com.au.

If you have any inquiries in relation to this letter and the process of making requests under the FOI Act, you may contact me using the contact details above.

Yours sincerely

Gregory Parkhurst
