Dear Mr Monceaux

Freedom of Information Request No. 161204
Decision on Access

I refer to your request of 14 December 2016 to the Department of the Environment and Energy (the Department) under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (the FOI Act). Your request seeks access to:

All formal submissions [ie those received in writing during the advertised opportunities for public comment] received by the department in response to the EPBC Act referral for Spencer Gulf Port Link/Transport - water/Port Bonython, Eyre Peninsula, SA/SA/Port Bonython Bulk Commodities Export Facility, SA Ref#2012/6336.

Authority

I am authorised by the Secretary of the Department under section 23 of the FOI Act to make a decision in relation to your request.

Decision

The Department has identified seven documents relevant to the scope of your request.

I have decided to:

- grant access to Documents 1 and 4 in full; and
- grant access to Documents 2 and 3 and Documents 5 through 7 in part, as they contain material that I consider exempt pursuant to section 47F of the FOI Act, or irrelevant to the request pursuant to section 22 of the FOI Act.

A schedule describing these documents and my decision in respect of each is at ATTACHMENT A. ATTACHMENT B contains information regarding your review rights, should you wish to seek review of my decision.

The documents are at ATTACHMENT C.

Material considered in making my decision

I had regard to:

- the scope of the FOI request
- the content of the documents subject to your request;
- the relevant provisions in the FOI Act;
- advice from subject matter experts within the Department;
- the Guidelines issued by the Australian Information Commissioner under s93A of the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (the FOI Guidelines).

Reasons for decision

Material deleted pursuant to Section 22

Deletion of irrelevant material

Section 22 of the FOI Act allows for information that is irrelevant to your request to be deleted. The documents captured by your request include the personal information of junior government officers and the personal contact information of senior government officers. As iterated in our correspondence of 16 December 2016, the Department considers this material to be irrelevant to the scope of a request where no representation has been made that they be specifically included. The Department has not received a representation to this effect. Accordingly, I have decided that the personal information of junior government officers and the personal contact details of senior officers are irrelevant to the scope of your request and have deleted that information pursuant to section 22 of the FOI Act.

Material exempted under section 47F

Personal privacy

Section 47F(1) of the FOI Act provides that where the disclosure of document would result in an unreasonable disclosure of personal information about any person (including a deceased person), that document is conditionally exempt. The conditionally exempt document may then be withheld from release to the applicant only if access to it would be against the public interest.

Unreasonable disclosure of information

Documents 2, 3 and 7 contain the names, addresses, telephone numbers and/or email addresses of members of the public who had made the submissions that are the subject of this request. I am satisfied that this information is "personal information" for the purposes of the FOI Act.

To determine whether the disclosure of this personal information was unreasonable, I gave regard to the following criteria under 47F(2) of the FOI Act:

- (a) the extent to which the information is well known;
- (b) whether the person to whom the information relates is known to be (or to have been) associated with the matters dealt with in the document;
- (c) the availability of the information from publicly accessible sources;
- (d) any other matters that the Authority considers relevant.

Against these criteria, I consider that:

- (a) the information is not well known;
- (b) the persons are not known to be associated with the matters dealt with in the document;
and
- (c) the information is not available from publicly accessible sources.

Against criteria (d), and consistent with the decision in Re Chandra and Minister for Immigration and Ethnic Affairs [1984] AATA 437, I considered all relevant circumstances, including the nature of the information, the purpose for which the information was obtained, the likelihood of the information being information which the person concerned would not wish to have disclosed, and whether the information has any current relevance as set out in.

With reference to my findings above, I consider that any disclosure of the names, addresses, telephone numbers and/or email addresses of members of the public who had made submissions contained within the documents would be unreasonable, and therefore that this personal information is conditionally exempt. I will consider whether access to this personal information would be contrary to the public interest.

Contrary to the public interest

To determine whether access to the conditionally exempt personal information would be contrary to the public interest, I must consider those public interest factors favouring access to the personal information and weigh them against those public interest factors against access. If satisfied that the public interest factors against access outweigh those favouring access, I may decide that access to the personal information is contrary to the public interest.

I did not consider any of the irrelevant factors set out in section 11B(4) of the FOI Act.

Section 11B(3) sets out the public interest factors that favour access to information:

- (a) promote the objects of this Act (including all the matters set out in sections 3 and 3A);*
- (b) inform debate on a matter of public importance;*
- (c) promote effective oversight of public expenditure;*
- (d) allow a person to access his or her own personal information.*

Against these factors, I consider that access to the names, addresses, telephone numbers and/or email addresses of members of the public who had made the submissions contained within Documents 2, 3 and 7:

- (a) would promote the objects of the FOI Act in respect of providing access to information held by the Government (promoting section 3(1)(b)) and that the information is a national resource (section 3(3)).

However, I do not consider that this specific personal information would allow for greater insight into Government decision making (section 3(2)(a)) or that their release would allow for increased discussion or scrutiny of Government activities (section 3(3));

- (b) would not inform debate on a matter of public importance;
- (c) would not promote effective oversight of public expenditure; and
- (d) would not allow a person, being the applicant, further access to his or her own personal information.

Paragraph 6.29 of the FOI Guidelines provides a non-exhaustive list of public interest factors against access. Of these factors, I that access to the names, addresses, telephone numbers and/or email addresses of members of the public who had made the submissions contained within Documents 2, 3 and 7:

(a) could reasonably be expected to prejudice the protection of an individual's right to privacy

After considering the public interest factors favouring access and those against access, I consider that the factors against access to outweigh those favouring access, and that access to the personal information discussed above to be contrary the public interest.

I have therefore decided to withhold access to the conditionally exempt the names, addresses, telephone numbers and/or email addresses of members of the public who had made the submissions contained within Documents 2, 3 and 7 pursuant to section 47F of the FOI Act.

Disclosure Log

Pursuant to section 11C of the FOI Act, the Department will publish the documents at ATTACHMENT C on their website within 10 days of providing you with this decision. Please note, the Department will redact your personal information from Document 1 before publishing.
