REASONS FOR DECISION

What you requested

What I took into account

In reaching my decision I took into account:

- your original request dated 24 March 2017;
- any documents that fall within the scope of your request;
- consultations with departmental officers about:
  - the nature of the documents;
  - the department’s operating environment and functions;
- guidelines issued by the Australian Information Commissioner under section 93A of the FOI Act (the Guidelines); and
- the FOI Act.

Reasons for my decisions

I am authorised to make decisions under section 23(1) of the FOI Act.

Section 24A of the FOI Act

Section 24A of the FOI Act provides that:

(1) An agency or Minister may refuse a request for access to a document if:
   (a) all reasonable steps have been taken to find the document; and
   (b) the agency or Minister is satisfied that the document:
      (i) is in the agency’s or Minister’s possession but cannot be found; or
      (ii) does not exist.

The department’s Ombudsman and Information Release Branch (the Branch) is primarily responsible for managing the release of information under certain provisions of the social security law by the department. This Branch was best placed to conduct searches of their electronic databases due to the terms of your request (which is narrower than your previous FOI request – LEX 27960). Information Release section records are maintained electronically in the Information Release Computer System (IRCS). Multiple searches were conducted on the IRCS and the Branch did not identify any documents that were issued.

On the basis of these searches, I am satisfied that in accordance with section 24A of the FOI Act:

1. all reasonable steps have been taken to find the documents; and
2. the documents do not exist.
INFORMATION ON RIGHTS OF REVIEW

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 1982

Asking for a full explanation of a Freedom of Information decision

Before you ask for a formal review of an FOI decision, you can contact us to discuss your request. We will explain the decision to you. This gives you a chance to correct misunderstandings.

Asking for a formal review of a Freedom of Information decision

If you still believe a decision is incorrect, the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (FOI Act) gives you the right to apply for a review of the decision. Under sections 54 and 54L of the FOI Act, you can apply for a review of an FOI decision by:

1. an Internal Review Officer in the Department of Human Services (the department); and/or
2. the Australian Information Commissioner.

Note 1: There are no fees for these reviews.

Applying for an internal review by an Internal Review Officer

If you apply for internal review, a different decision maker to the departmental delegate who made the original decision will carry out the review. The Internal Review Officer will consider all aspects of the original decision and decide whether it should change. An application for internal review must be:

• made in writing
• made within 30 days of receiving this letter
• sent to the address at the top of the first page of this letter.

Note 2: You do not need to fill in a form. However, it is a good idea to set out any relevant submissions you would like the Internal Review Officer to further consider, and your reasons for disagreeing with the decision.

Applying for external review by the Australian Information Commissioner

If you do not agree with the original decision or the internal review decision, you can ask the Australian Information Commissioner to review the decision.

If you do not receive a decision from an Internal Review Officer in the department within 30 days of applying, you can ask the Australian Information Commissioner for a review of the original FOI decision.

You will have 60 days to apply in writing for a review by the Australian Information Commissioner.
