Dear Mr Gothe-Snape

Decision on your Freedom of Information request

I refer to your revised request, dated 16 August 2017 and received by the Department of Human Services (the department) on the same day, for access under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (the FOI Act) to the following documents:

'Please provide the budgets, menus, expenses, invoices, receipts, credit card statements and reimbursements for the last event attended by the Minister either in a personal or professional capacity in December 2016.'

My decision

I have decided to refuse your request for access under section 24A of the FOI Act on the basis that all reasonable steps have been taken to locate the documents you have requested and I am satisfied that they do not exist.

Please see Attachment A for the reasons behind my decision.

You can ask for a review of our decision

If you disagree with any part of the decision you can ask for a review. There are two ways you can do this. You can ask for an internal review from within the department, or an external review by the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner. You do not have to pay for reviews of decisions.

See Attachment B for more information about how arrange a review.

REASONS FOR DECISION

Your request

On 9 August 2017, the department received your original FOI request for the following documents:

'Can you please provide the budgets, menus, expenses, invoices, receipts, credit card statements and reimbursements for the most expensive event attended by a Minister or Assistant Minister in your Department's portfolio area in 2016-17.'

On 16 August 2017, I wrote to you providing a notice of intention to refuse your request under section 24AB(2) of the FOI Act as I could not identify the documents you were seeking access to. I gave you an opportunity to consult with the department to revise your request so as to remove the practical refusal reason.

On 16 August 2017, the department received your revised request for the following documents:

'Please provide the budgets, menus, expenses, invoices, receipts, credit card statements and reimbursements for the last event attended by the Minister either in a personal or professional capacity in December 2016.'

What I took into account

In reaching my decision I took into account:

- your revised request dated 16 August 2017;
- consultations with departmental officers about:
 - the nature of the documents that you requested;
 - the department's operating environment and functions;
- guidelines issued by the Australian Information Commissioner under section 93A of the FOI Act (the Guidelines);
- the FOI Act.

Reasons for my decisions

I am authorised to make decisions under section 23(1) of the FOI Act.

Section 24A of the FOI Act

Section 24A of the FOI Act provides that:

- (1) An agency or Minister may refuse a request for access to a document if:
 - (a) all reasonable steps have been taken to find the document; and
 - (b) the agency or Minister is satisfied that the document:
 - (i) is in the agency's or Minister's possession but cannot be found; or
 - (ii) does not exist.

The Ministerial Coordination and Parliamentary Services Branch and the Financial Systems Branch of the Chief Financial Officer Division, conducted searches of the department's electronic records and financial database system. These branches did not identify any documents matching the description in your request.

On the basis of these searches, I am satisfied that in accordance with section 24A of the FOI Act:

1. all reasonable steps have been taken to find the documents; and
2. the documents do not exist.

Please note that the Department of Finance regularly published reports on Parliamentarian's Expenditures. For example, you can access the Minister Tudge's expenditure reporting for the period of 1 July 2016 – 31 December 2016 here:

http://www.finance.gov.au/sites/default/files/P39_TUDGE_Alan.pdf.

Future reports will be published by the Independent Parliamentary Expenses Authority (IPEA). The IPEA is the Commonwealth statutory authority, established on 1 July 2017, with responsibility for reporting and auditing parliamentary travel and work expenses.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 1982

Asking for a full explanation of a Freedom of Information decision

Before you ask for a formal review of a FOI decision, you can contact us to discuss your request. We will explain the decision to you. This gives you a chance to correct misunderstandings.

Asking for a formal review of an Freedom of Information decision

If you still believe a decision is incorrect, the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (FOI Act) gives you the right to apply for a review of the decision. Under sections 54 and 54L of the FOI Act, you can apply for a review of an FOI decision by:

1. an Internal Review Officer in the Department of Human Services (the department); and/or
2. the Australian Information Commissioner.

Note 1: There are no fees for these reviews.

Applying for an internal review by an Internal Review Officer

If you apply for internal review, a different decision maker to the departmental delegate who made the original decision will carry out the review. - made in writing
- made within 30 days of receiving this letter
- sent to the address at the top of the first page of this letter.

Note 2: You do not need to fill in a form. However, it is a good idea to set out any relevant submissions you would like the Internal Review Officer to further consider, and your reasons for disagreeing with the decision.

Applying for external review by the Australian Information Commissioner

If you do not agree with the original decision or the internal review decision, you can ask the Australian Information Commissioner to review the decision.

If you do not receive a decision from an Internal Review Officer in the department within 30 days of applying, you can ask the Australian Information Commissioner for a review of the original FOI decision.

You will have 60 days to apply in writing for a review by the Australian Information Commissioner.
