Dear Fliccy

Freedom of Information request

1. I refer to your email dated 12 April 2019, seeking access to documents held by the Australian Public Service Commission (the Commission) under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (FOI Act).
2. You have requested access to the following:

I request copies of any documents within all of John Lloyd's email account (including drafts and deleted items) that contain my name/personal information: "Fliccy".

My decision

3. I am an officer authorised under subsection 23(1) of the FOI Act to make decisions in relation to FOI requests. This letter sets out the reasons for my decision.
4. I have caused searches to be undertaken of the Commission's email archives. I am satisfied based on the evidence provided by the relevant officers that no documents exist within the scope of your request.
5. I have decided to refuse your request for access under section 24A of the FOI Act. Sections 24A(1)(a) and 24A(1)(b) of the FOI Act provide that an agency may refuse a request for access to a document if the agency is satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken to find the document and the agency is satisfied that the document does not exist.
6. My decision is made on the basis that all reasonable steps have been taken to locate any documents, which you have requested, and no documents have been identified. Accordingly, my decision is that no records exist in response to your request.

Attachment A – Rights of Review

Asking for a full explanation of a Freedom of Information decision

If you are dissatisfied with this decision, you may seek review. Before you seek review of an FOI decision, you may contact us to discuss your request and we will explain the decision to you.

Seeking review of a Freedom of Information decision

If you still believe a decision is incorrect, the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (FOI Act) gives you the right to apply for a review of the decision. Under sections 54 and 54L of the FOI Act, you can apply for a review of an FOI decision by seeking:

1. an internal review by a different officer of the Australian Public Service Commission, and/or
2. an external review by the Australian Information Commissioner.

There are no fees applied to either review option.

Applying for a review by an Internal Review Officer

If you apply for internal review, a different decision maker to the departmental delegate who made the original decision will carry out the review. The Internal Review Officer will consider all aspects of the original decision and decide whether it should change. An application for internal review must be made in writing within 30 days of receiving this letter to:

Email: foi@apsc.gov.au

Post: The FOI Coordinator
Australian Public Service Commission
B Block, Treasury Building
GPO Box 3176
Parkes Place West
PARKES ACT 2600

You do not need to fill in a form. However, it is a good idea to set out any relevant submissions you would like the Internal Review Officer to further consider, and your reasons for disagreeing with the decision.

Applying for external review by the Australian Information Commissioner

If you do not agree with the original FOI decision or the internal review decision, you can ask the Australian Information Commissioner to review the decision. You have 60 days to apply in writing for a review by the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (OAIC) from the date you received this letter or any subsequent internal review decision.

You can lodge your application:

Online: www.oaic.gov.au

Post: Australian Information Commissioner
GPO Box 5218

SYDNEY NSW 2001

Email: enquiries@oaic.gov.au

The OAIC encourage applicants to apply online. Where possible, to assist the OAIC you should include your contact information, a copy of the related FOI decision and provide details of your reasons for objecting to the decision.
