

Freedom of Information Complaints

Factsheet

If you are not satisfied with the way that the department processed your freedom of information request, you may lodge a complaint with the Office of the Victorian Information Commissioner (the Commissioner).

Types of Complaints

The Commissioner can investigate actions taken by agencies in processing requests.

Examples include:

- if the department advises you that the documents cannot be located or that the documents do not exist
- if you feel that the department's response to a freedom of information request has been unreasonably delayed beyond the statutory time period.

Timeframe for making a complaint

A complaint must be made within 60 days of the action or conduct which is the subject of the complaint.

How to make a complaint

Complaints must be made in writing and addressed to:
