Extension of time under s 15AC

Dear Mr Thompson

On 12 July 2019, the Australian Sports Anti-Doping Authority (ASADA) advised this office that it had not made a decision on your FOI request of 5 May 2019 within the statutory period provided by the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (Cth) (the FOI Act). Consequently, the FOI Act deems that ASADA has refused your request.

However, s 15AC of the FOI Act allows the Information Commissioner to extend the processing time for an FOI request where the initial decision period has ended and the agency or Minister has not provided the applicant with notice of a decision. ASADA has applied for further time to finalise your request.

ASADA advised that they already extended the decision period, by a further period of 30 days, to allow for consultation in accordance with s 15(6) of the FOI Act. This extended the decision period to 5 July 2019.

ASADA attempted to obtain an agreement under s 15AA of the FOI Act for an extension of time for six days to 11 July 2019 from you. ASADA did not receive a response from you.

Decision

As a delegate of the Information Commissioner, I am authorised to make decisions on applications for extensions of time under s 15AC(5) of the FOI Act.

I have decided to grant ASADA further time of 14 days to 19 July 2019 to process your request. My reasons follow:

- ASADA experienced delays in processing the request due to recent, unexpected absence of key legal staff
- further time is required for ASADA to finalise the final stages in processing of the FOI request.

This extension of time under s 15AC of the FOI Act means that the deemed refusal is taken never to have applied if ASADA makes a decision on your request by 19 July 2019. Such an extension can only be granted once and cannot be extended by a variation.

I note that the Freedom of Information (Charges) Regulations 1982 provides if an applicant is not notified of a decision on a request within the statutory time limit (including any extension of time), the agency or minister cannot impose a charge for providing access, even if the applicant was earlier notified that a charge was payable (regs 5(2), (3)). This extension under s 15AC of the FOI Act does not mean that charges can be reimposed and any deposit you have paid should be refunded.

Review rights

If you disagree with the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner's (OAIC) decision you can apply to the Federal Court of Australia or the Federal Circuit Court for a review of a decision of the Information Commissioner if you think that a decision by the Information Commissioner to grant an extension of time is not legally correct. You can make this application under the Administrative Decisions (Judicial Review) Act 1977.

The Court will not review the merits of your case but it may refer the matter back to the Information Commissioner for further consideration if it finds the decision was wrong in law or the Information Commissioner's powers were not exercised properly.

An application for review must be made to the Court within 28 days of the OAIC sending the decision to you. You may wish to seek legal advice as the process can involve fees and costs. Please contact the Federal Court registry in your state or territory for more information, or visit the Federal Court website at <http://www.fedcourt.gov.au/>.

Further information

Further information about how applications to extend the timeframe to process an FOI request are handled by the OAIC can be found published on our website:

FOI fact sheet 16: Freedom of information — Extensions of time

FOI agency resource 13: Extension of time for processing requests

The OAIC has the power to investigate complaints about an agency's actions under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (FOI Act). This is a separate process from asking for an Information Commissioner review following a decision made under the FOI Act. Complaints usually focus on how an agency has handled your FOI request or complied with other obligations under the FOI Act, rather than the decision itself.

In some cases, the Information Commissioner's investigation of a complaint may lead to the agency addressing the issues that you have complained about. In other cases, the Information Commissioner may make suggestions or recommendations that the agency should implement. The Information Commissioner can only make non-binding recommendations as a result of a complaint. You and the agency will be notified of the outcome of the investigation.

FOI complaints to the OAIC must be made in writing. Our preference is for you to use the online FOI complaint form if at all possible.

Further information about how to make a complaint can be found published on our website: <https://www.oaic.gov.au/freedom-of-information/foi-complaints>
