Decision and reason for decision of Molly (Position Number 62213164), Information Law Section, Legal Services and Audit Branch, Department of Veterans' Affairs

Applicant: Julie (Right to Know)

Decision date: 2 October 2020

FOI reference number: FOI 38006

Dear Julie

Freedom of Information Request: FOI 38006

Decision

1. The Department of Veterans' Affairs (Department) has undertaken a reasonable search of its records and has not been able to identify documents relevant to your request.
2. For this reason, I have made a decision to refuse your request under section 24A of the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (FOI Act), as the documents do not exist.

Authority to make this decision

3. I, Molly (Position Number 62213164), Legal Officer, Information Law Section, am an officer authorised by the Secretary of the Department to make decisions about access to documents in the possession of the Department in accordance with section 23(1) of the FOI Act.

Summary

4. On 3 September 2020, you made a request for access to documents in the possession of the Department. Your request was made in the following terms:

'...I wish to obtain access to official information held by the Department of Veterans' Affairs under the Freedom of Information Act 1982. The official information sought is not available in discrete form, in the written documents of the agency, therefore I request the agency to produce a written document containing the information in discrete form by use of computer to retrieve and collate the stored official information sought.

I request access to such a compiled document that provides the following information in the layout requested:

From a FOI decision here on Right to Know it appears the Information Law section of the Department of Veterans' Affairs is made up of 9 positions, being an EL2 (position number 62209913), two EL1 (position numbers 62210326 & 62210022), two APS6 (position numbers 62210358 & 62214719), an APS5 (position number 62214547), an APS4 (position number 62210105), an APS 3 (position number 62214718), and a contractor (position number 62212962). It is possible there have been slight changes to the position establishment of Information Law since, but this is likely to still be current.

In either case, for all positions within the Information Law section that were filled during the period March to July inclusive, for 2020 and 2019, using the official records of duty (that is, staff member was recorded as on duty, and was not on personal leave or sick leave, in the Department's human management / pay systems), provide the cumulative number of available staff days for the periods of scope:

Unavailable*

Again, as stated, an available staff day is count of each work day (so excludes weekends and public holidays) each filled position was available for duty (not on personal leave or sick leave). For example, on one work day there are three filled positions and all three are available for work, then the count for the day would be three (and if there were three filled position but only two were available for work and one was on sick leave for that day, the count for the day would be 2 available, 1 unavailable), and so on. Flexi-time is ignored, as it is merely a transfer of days worked...'

5. As no extensions of time were applied to processing your request, a decision on your request is due by 5 October 2020. I note that 5 October 2020 is a public holiday which means this decision is due by 6 October 2020.

Material taken into account

6. In accordance with section 26(1)(a) of the FOI Act, my findings on any material question of fact, the material on which those findings were based and the reasons for my decision to refuse access to the documents follows.
7. I have taken the following material into account in making my decision:
 - the terms of your request;
 - the types of documents that are in the possession of the Department;
 - Sections 3, 11 and 11A of the FOI Act which give the Australian community a legally enforceable right to obtain access to information held by the Government of the Commonwealth;
 - Section 11B Public interest exemption – factors
 - Section 15 Request for Access
 - Section 17 Requests involving use of computers etc. (e.g. request for the Department to create a document)
 - Section 24A Requests may be refused if documents cannot be found, do not exist or have not been received
 - the Guidelines issued by the Australian Information Commissioner under section 93A of the FOI Act (FOI Guidelines); and
 - searches undertaken by relevant business areas of the Department
8. A full extract of all FOI Act provisions used to make my decision are provided in Schedule 2.

Reasons for decision

9. I have decided to refuse your request in accordance with the following provision in the FOI Act:

Requests may be refused if documents cannot be found, do not exist or have not been received (section 24A)

10. Section 24A(1) of the FOI Act provides that an agency or Minister may refuse a request for access to a document if:

- (a) all reasonable steps have been taken to find the document; and
- (b) the agency or Minister is satisfied that the document:
 - (i) is in the agency's or Minister's possession but cannot be found; or
 - (ii) does not exist.

11. I am satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken to find information relevant to your request, having regard to:

- the terms of your request;
- the subject matter of the documents;
- the current and past file management systems and the practice of orderly destruction or removal of documents;
- the Department's record management systems and practices; and
- the individuals and areas within the Department who may be able to assist with the location of the information you seek access to.

12. Despite the reasonable searches undertaken, the Department has been unable to identify documents relevant to your request. I am satisfied that this is because the requested document does not exist. A description of the searches undertaken to locate the documents which you are seeking to access is at Schedule 1.

13. For these reasons, I am refusing your request for access to documents as described in your request in accordance with section 24A of the FOI Act.

Requests involving use of computers etc (section 17)

14. As I consider that the requested documents do not exist, I have also turned my mind as to whether the Department could create a document in response to your request with regard to section 17 of the FOI Act.

15. Section 17(1) provides that where:

- (a) a request (including a request in relation to which a practical refusal reason exists) is made in accordance with the requirements of subsection 15(2) to the Department;

- (b) it appears from the request that the desire of the applicant is for information that is not available in discrete form in written documents of the Department;
- (ba) it does not appear from the request that the applicant wishes to be provided with a computer tape or computer disk on which the information is recorded; and
- (c) the Department could produce a written document containing the information in discrete form by:
 - (i) the use of a computer or other equipment that is ordinarily available to the agency for retrieving or collating stored information; or
 - (ii) the making of a transcript from a sound recording held in the agency; the agency shall deal with the request as if it were a request for access to a written document.

16. Additionally, section 17(2) of the FOI Act provides that the Department is not required to comply with subsection 17(1) of the FOI Act if compliance would substantially and unreasonably divert the resources of the Department from its other operations.
17. After consultation with the relevant business area of the Department, I consider that the Department is unable to create a document in response to your request via the use of a computer system that is ordinarily available to the Department. The relevant business area advised that the creation of such a document would require the manual extraction and manipulation of data, meaning that the Department is unable to produce a document in response to your request at this time via the use of an ordinarily available computer system.
18. A description of the consultation that I undertook with the relevant business area and my findings of fact in relation to the application of section 17 of the FOI Act are also provided at Schedule 1.
19. For these reasons, I am refusing your request for access to documents as described in your request in accordance with section 24A of the FOI Act, on the basis that the requested documents do not exist. I have also decided that the Department cannot produce the requested documents in accordance with section 17 of the FOI Act.

Summary of document searches

The Department conducted the following searches to identify files and documents that fall within scope of your request (relevant documents).

I consulted with the People Services Branch (the Branch) in relation to your request.

The Branch undertook searches for documents meeting the description of your request in several of the Department's storage locations including personal emails, positional mailboxes, and various interdepartmental information holding systems.

As a result of these searches, the Branch advised that documents relevant to your request could not be located.

The Branch advised that would require manual data extraction and manipulation across both the People Service Branch and the Legal Services and Audit Branch. Specifically, to produce the records for APS staff alone the Department would be required to:

- Run multiple APS staffing occupancy and leave reports for the date periods listed in your request.
- Crosscheck the names of each APS staff member captured by those reports with other Departmental records.
- Analyse leave reports to work out which days APS staff were unavailable and produce a calendar view of the requested date periods to take account of weekends and public holidays.

Further the Branch advised that is unable to run reports on Contractors in the same way as is it able to for APS employees. This means that multiple teams would be required to undertake a manual review of contractor records to source and provided the requested information. Ultimately requiring the production of a bespoke document.

Accordingly, I consider that the request document and is not available for creation via the use of a computer system ordinarily available to the Department.
