Dear Mr Sweeney

Your Freedom Of Information Request No. LS8303

I refer to your email dated 29 November 2020 9:12 AM in which you request ('your FOI Request') to the Australian Electoral Commission ('AEC') under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (the 'FOI Act') for access to documents relating to the trialling of Electronic Voting Machines.

2 I am writing today to give you a decision about access to documents that you requested in your FOI Request.

Summary

3 I, Owen Jones, Senior Lawyer of the AEC, am an officer authorised under subsection 23(1) of the FOI Act to make decisions in relation to FOI Requests.

4 Specifically, you sought access to documents:

that would disclose whether the AEC in the last 5 years has obtained any electronic voting machines that do not require a voter use a paper ballot for the purpose of evaluating such technology for use in a future Federal Election

5 I identified no documents that fell within the scope of your FOI Request (the 'Relevant Documents').

6 I did this by directing inquiries to the AEC's Chief Information Officer who informed me that the AEC has not obtained any electronic voting machines that do not require a voter use a paper ballot for the purpose of evaluating such technology for use in a future Federal Election.

7 With regard to the Relevant Documents, I have decided to refuse access because no such documents exist.

8 More information, including my reasons for my decision, is set out below.

Decision

9 With regard to the Relevant Documents, I have decided to refuse access under paragraph subparagraph 24A(1)(b)(ii) of the FOI Act because they do not exist as a document of the AEC.

Material taken into account

10 I have taken the following material into account in making my decision:

- (a) the content of the documents that fall within the scope of your FOI Request;
- (b) the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918 (the 'Electoral Act;'), specifically section 6,
- (c) the FOI Act, specifically section 4, Part III in general, and in particular. Sections 15 and 24A; and
- (d) the guidelines ('FOI Guidelines') issued by the Australian Information Commissioner under section 93A of the FOI Act, in particular paragraphs 2.29–2.44; and 3.85–3.94.

Reasons

Documents that do not exist

11 Subparagraph 24A(1)(b)(ii) of the FOI Act permits access to a document to be refused where that document does not exist.

12 With respect to the Relevant Documents, I found that no such documents exist as a document of the AEC.

Consideration

13 The reason for making my finding in paragraph 12 (as mentioned in paragraph 6 of this letter) is that the AEC has not has obtained any electronic voting machines that do not require a voter use a paper ballot for the purpose of evaluating such technology for use in a future Federal Election.

The AEC as an agency

14 The AEC falls within the definition of an 'agency' for the purposes of the FOI Act as the following paragraphs explain.

15 The expression 'agency' is defined in subsection 4(1) of the FOI Act.

16 Insofar as is material section 4 of the FOI Act provides:

4 Interpretation

(1) In this Act, unless the contrary intention appears:

agency means a Department, a prescribed authority or a Norfolk Island authority.

prescribed authority means:

- (a) a body corporate, or an unincorporated body, established for a public purpose by, or in accordance with the provisions of, an enactment or an Order-in-Council, other than:
 - (i) an incorporated company or association; or
 - (ii) a body that, under subsection (2), is not to be taken to be a prescribed authority for the purposes of this Act; or
 - (iii) the Australian Capital Territory House of Assembly; or
 - (iv) the Legislative Assembly of the Northern Territory or the Executive Council of the Northern Territory; or
 - (vi) a Royal Commission; or
 - (vii) a Commission of inquiry; or

17 The AEC is an unincorporated body established for a public purposes by the Electoral Act.

18 It follows that the FOI Act applies to the AEC.

Document of an agency

19 Insofar as is material section 4 of the FOI Act provides:

4 Interpretation

(1) In this Act, unless the contrary intention appears:

document of an agency: a document is a document of an agency if:

- (a) the document is in the possession of the agency, whether created in the agency or received in the agency; or

Refusal of access to non-existent documents

20 Insofar as is material, subsection 24A(1) of the FOI Act provides:

24A Requests may be refused if documents cannot be found, do not exist or have not been received

Document lost or non-existent

(1) An agency or Minister may refuse a request for access to a document if:

- (a) all reasonable steps have been taken to find the document; and
- (b) the agency or Minister is satisfied that the document:

...

- (ii) does not exist.

Outcome

21 Accordingly, I am satisfied that each Relevant Document has never existed as a document of the AEC for the purposes of the definition of the expression 'document of an agency' provided by section 4 of the FOI Act.

22 Consequently, I decided to refuse access to the Relevant Documents under subparagraph 24A(1)(b)(ii) of the FOI Act.
