Freedom of Information Request – FOI 2021/54.10

Processing Charges Decision – Statement of Reasons

14 May 2021

Background

1. nbn is a government business enterprise (GBE), which has the mandate of realising the Australian Government’s vision for the development and operation of Australia’s new broadband network.
2. nbn recognises that information is a vital and an invaluable resource, both for the company and for the broader Australian community. That is why nbn fosters and promotes a pro-disclosure culture, with the goal of creating an organisation that is open, transparent and accountable. In that light, members of the public will be able to find a large amount of information freely available on our website at the following link: <http://nbngo.com.au/>.
3. nbn manages its information assets within the terms and spirit of the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (Cth) (FOI Act). We also endeavour to release information proactively, while taking into account our commercial and other legal obligations.
4. Subject to relevant exemptions, the FOI Act gives the Australian community the right to access documents held by Commonwealth Government agencies, as well as “prescribed authorities”, such as nbn.
5. Under subsection 23(1) of the FOI Act, the Chief Executive Officer of nbn has authorised me to make decisions about access to documents and related determinations under the FOI Act.
6. Under section 29(8) of the FOI Act, I am required to provide a Statement of Reasons for my decisions in relation to charges for FOI applications.

Application Chronology and Terms of Request

7. On 12 February 2021, nbn received an FOI request from “ST” (the Applicant), in the following terms:

“I refer to the following two media releases:

- <https://www.nbngo.com.au/corporate-information/media-centre/media-statements/nbn-extends-fibre-to-additional-100k-premises>

- <https://www.nbngo.com.au/corporate-information/media-centre/media-statements/nbn-co-announces-next-100k-premises-in-fttn-to-ftp-upgrade>

As the media statements appear to not provide any reasoning as to why these areas are selected, I am requesting the following information under the FOI act:

1. Any statement, documentation, or internal correspondence that that would show the following:

- 1.1: Explanations, reasons or rational as to why the areas mentioned in the media releases have been selected as locations where the fibre network is to be extended.
- 1.2: Any areas that were considered but ruled out, and the rational behind this.
2. The split in technology types within the areas for both 1.1 and 1.2
3. If any parties external to NBN have been consulted on the areas selected in both 1.1 and 1.2.”

8. After correspondence with me seeking clarification of the request, the Applicant amended the request to:

“a list of the criteria that nbn uses to take into account which has made them select all of these areas that ultimately ended up selected”.

The wording “these areas” means the two tranches of areas selected for fibre upgrade as referenced in nbn’s media statements dated 27 October 2020 and 10 February 2021, which are referenced in your email sent 12 February 2021, being:

Tranche 1:

- Belmont North, Charlestown, Toronto, Carramar, Castle Hill, Holsworthy, Liverpool, and Wetherill Park in New South Wales;
- Lyndhurst and Narre Warren in Victoria;
- Acacia Ridge, Browns Plains, Eight Mile Plains and Oxenford in Queensland;
- Osborne in South Australia, and
- Cannington and Double View in Western Australia.

Tranche 2:

- Campbelltown, Elderslie, Narellan, Maitland, Singleton, Tarro, New Lambton, Bathurst and Orange in New South Wales;
- Deer Park, Sydenham, Berwick South, Cranbourne and additional areas of Narre Warren in Victoria;
- Albany Creek, Ashgrove, Bald Hills, Ferny Hills, Robina, Burleigh Heads and Townsville in Queensland;
- Elizabeth, Gepps Cross, Salisbury and Golden Grove in South Australia, and
- Girrawheen, Kingsley, Wanneroo, Canning Vale and Jandakot South in Western Australia.

9. On 12 April 2021, I sent the Applicant an assessment of the processing fees for the application and requested payment of an advance deposit.
10. On 15 April 2021, the Applicant requested a waiver of the processing fees on the basis of the request being in the general public interest. In support of the fee waiver request, the Applicant asserted as follows:

There is considerable interest in being able to subscribe to higher speed plans from users who are on copper based technology - primarily FTTN.

As a result, numerous threads on Whirlpool (an online technology forum) have been viewed by over 18,300 unique users with many discussing the upgrades and theorising the logic. In addition, media have been reporting on the areas (e.g. <https://www.itnews.com.au/news/nbn-co-names-more-fttn-cities-and-towns-in-path-for-> fibre-upgrade-560855). Given this large interest, it is clear that both users of Whirlpool, the media and overall the general public would be interested to see the decisions that were made to choose these areas, hence my request for the fee to be waived.

11. I made this processing charges decision on the date set out above.

Decision Summary

12. A fee waiver is appropriate in the circumstances, and accordingly, the processing fees referenced in my letter dated 12 April 2021 are not imposed.

Findings of Material Fact

13. As the decision maker, I made certain findings of fact in relation to the processing time required to respond to this FOI request. In particular, I calculated a total (estimated) application cost of $195. The calculation of the processing time took into account the time estimated to:
 - a. search and retrieve the subject documents;
 - b. conduct a preliminary review/reading of the documents, identifying relevant nbn subject matter experts (SMEs), setting up meetings with SMEs, drafting initial considerations of potential exemptions, commercial considerations and other related questions before meetings with SMEs;
 - c. conduct SMEs' assessment and review, along with detailing commercial sensitivities and confirmation of findings of facts with each SME, as well as file noting this information; and
 - d. complete the decision.
14. The total processing time included a statutory discount for the first five hours of decision-making. In making the above estimate, I endeavoured to be as accurate as possible. In addition, I considered paragraph 4.24 of the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (OAIC) FOI Guidelines. I also took guidance from nbn's previous experience in responding to requests relating to nbn's commercial activities carve-out, noting that such matters tend to be complex and require substantial assessment time by SMEs as well as review and FOI decision-making time.
15. In making my decision, I considered the Applicant's contentions made in the fee waiver request. I also reviewed relevant sections of the FOI Act, the Freedom of Information (Charges) Regulations 2019 (Cth) (the Charges Regulation), the FOI Guidelines, case law and other relevant sources.

Decision and Reasons – nbn's Charging Policy

16. Per regulation 8 of the Charges Regulation, a decision maker has the discretion to impose or not impose a charge, or impose a reduced charge for the processing of an FOI request. nbn has developed an FOI charging policy in line with the FOI Act, the Charges Regulation and the FOI Guidelines. In accordance with the FOI Guidelines at paragraph 4.3, nbn's does not impose FOI processing charges in a manner that discourages applicants from exercising their rights to access. Rather, nbn seeks to ensure that its FOI charges fairly reflect the work involved in providing access to documents on request.
17. nbn adopted its charging policy in light of the company's status as a GBE. Unlike Commonwealth Government agencies, nbn is expected to operate as a competitive commercial entity. The Commonwealth GBE Governance and Oversight Guidelines \(January 2018\) make this clear. In particular, the Guidelines' "Mandate and Objectives" section indicates that the principal objective for GBEs is to add to shareholder value. To achieve this objective, GBEs are required to operate efficiently, at minimum cost for a given scale and quality of outputs, price efficiently and earn a commercial rate of return, among other matters.

18. It is clear that nbn has an obligation to operate according to sound commercial and business practices. In that regard, good business practice dictates that nbn should put a value on the time spent by its staff and charge accordingly for its services. This reasoning applies equally to FOI applications, which require input from dedicated FOI staff, together with the expertise and efforts of other nbn staff members such as SMEs. As such, FOI processing takes staff time away from core commercial activities, which by definition, impacts on nbn's resourcing for those core commercial activities, and therefore its ability to meet corporate targets. In that context, nbn is obliged to account for and place a value on staff members' time in respect of FOI processing efforts - to do otherwise would undermine nbn's obligations to operate as a commercial entity.
19. In relation to regulated FOI processing fees, the two most expensive activities are decision-making ($20/hour), and search and retrieval ($15/hour), which are roughly equivalent to current Australian minimum wages. For reference - the national minimum wage is currently \$19.84 per hour. In that context, it is reasonable to assume that commercial entities would charge significantly higher rates for similar functions and tasks. It also follows that Government agencies and GBEs also have much higher processing costs than those outlined in the Charges Regulation. In fact, Commonwealth Government agencies and GBEs do incur significantly more costs than those captured by the Charges Regulation. This was made clear in the OAIC's Review of Charges under the Freedom of Information Act 1983 (Cth) (February 2012) (OAIC Charges Review Report). In the OAIC Charges Review Report, the OAIC indicated the FOI charges only represented 2% of the actual costs incurred by agencies and similar bodies since the Act's commencement in 1982.
20. In light of the above points, entities subject to the FOI Act charge FOI processing fees at a significant discount to the actual costs incurred. This appropriately reflects the importance of FOI processes, particularly in respect of their role in helping to inform public debate. However, there are a number of key public interests served by Government agencies and authorities having the ability to charge for FOI processing time. In its Submission to the OAIC Charges Review, nbn outlined its support of fees and charges and their importance to the FOI scheme, generally reflecting the points made below.
 - Government agencies and authorities should be able to recoup some of their costs associated with processing FOI requests, while - at the same time, providing key public services, in accordance with user-pays principles.
 - The ability to charge for FOI processing time reflects Parliament's and the community's recognition that public servants' time is a valuable resource. Moreover, such resources should only be spent in appropriate public undertakings. This argument could be applied with greater weight to GBEs, which are expected to operate as any other commercial entity in the marketplace. Similar reasoning applies to section 24AA of the FOI Act, which enables decision makers to refuse requests that would substantially and unreasonably divert agencies' resources from their operations.
 - The ability to charge for the processing of FOI applications also ensures that applicants have a serious interest in the subject matter and are likely to proceed with the application to a final access determination. In addition, the requirement for a deposit tends to limit the scope of preliminary work "written off" by government entities in the event that an applicant were to withdraw an FOI request. This dovetails with the public interest in not wasting government public resources, funded by Australian taxpayers.

- At page 5 of the OAIC Charges Review Report, the OAIC reinforced the importance of fees and charges, outlining that:

Fees and charges play an important role in the FOI scheme. It is appropriate that applicants can be required in some instances to contribute to the substantial cost to government of meeting individual document requests. Charges also play a role in balancing demand, by focusing attention on the scope of requests and regulating those that are complex or voluminous and burdensome to process.

21. In light of the above points, it is nbn's policy to charge applicants for FOI processing time. However, nbn's charging policy also requires the company to examine every application on its individual merits. As such, there may be grounds to exempt or reduce the processing fees for a given FOI request. I explore those grounds further below.

Public Interest Grounds and Other Relevant Matters for Fee Reduction or Waiver

22. Subsections 29(4) and (5) of the FOI Act detail the process that agencies must follow if an applicant contends that processing charges should not be imposed or reduced. Those sections read as follows:

(4) Where the applicant has notified the agency or Minister, in a manner mentioned in subparagraph (1)(f)(ii), that the applicant contends that the charge should be reduced or not imposed, the agency or Minister may decide that the charge is to be reduced or not to be imposed.

(5) Without limiting the matters the agency or Minister may take into account in determining whether or not to reduce or not to impose the charge, the agency or Minister must take into account:

- a) whether the payment of the charge, or part of it, would cause financial hardship to the applicant, or to a person on whose behalf the application was made; and
- b) whether the giving of access to the document in question is in the general public interest or in the interest of a substantial section of the public.

23. In addition, paragraph 4.99 of the FOI Guidelines states that an “agency is entitled to consider matters that weigh against those relied upon by an applicant.” Paragraph 4.99 of the FOI Guidelines also lists a number of instances where it is appropriate to impose an FOI charge.

24. As outlined above, I am required to consider whether the payment of the FOI charge, or part of it, would cause financial hardship to the Applicant. I note that the Applicant neither advanced contentions in relation to financial hardship, nor provided evidence of financial hardship in support of the fee reduction request. Accordingly, I am not convinced that payment of the FOI charge would cause financial hardship to the Applicant.

25. Accordingly, the determining factor for a charges review is whether disclosure will be of general or identifiable public interest. This is known as the public interest test (PIT).

26. The Applicant alluded to there being general public interest in the subject matter of the request when requesting a waiver of the FOI charge.
27. Given the scope and breadth of nbn's mandate, I accept that there is general public interest the rollout of nbn services. There is also some public interest in the general subject of copper to fibre upgrades.
28. As to the question of whether there is general public interest in the specific information sought by the Applicant so as to satisfy the PIT, nbn staff reviewed various media sources. The objective was to determine whether there was media coverage and online references relating to the particular subject matter of the request, being the selection criteria used for Tranche 1 and Tranche 2 as specified in the Applicant's request, which have not previously been the subject of an FOI decision by nbn. Whilst not determinative, I find that media coverage and online references prior to the date of the request did suggest that the relevant documents would be in the general public interest, or in the interest of a substantial section of the public.
29. On balance, I am persuaded that a fee waiver is appropriate in respect of this request. Accordingly, the processing fees referenced in my letter dated 12 April 2021 are not imposed.
30. The Applicant should note that nbn's FOI decision maker may still conclude that the documents are exempt from the operation of the Act, per the commercial activities carve-out found at section 7(3) of the FOI Act.
31. Additionally, nbn's FOI decision maker may conclude nbn will not release the documents, based upon both general and conditional exemptions, the latter of which requires nbn to apply the public interest test in section 11B of the FOI Act. In that regard, please note that the public interest test found at section 11B is similar to, but different from the PIT employed for the purposes of deciding to reduce or not impose an FOI processing charge.
32. The Applicant should be aware that 19 days out of 30, had passed at the point at which this application was suspended to request an advance deposit. The processing period will recommence on the day the Applicant receives this notice.
33. If dissatisfied with this decision, the Applicant has certain rights of review. I have included details regarding your rights of review and appeal in the covering letter provided with this Statement of Reasons.
